THE EXTENSION SERVICE of Coffee County really gave the press a treat last Friday when they had us to lunch in Enterprise. John Ferri Cox, of the Elba Clipper and myself enjoyed this really delicious affair. The occasion was what Tom Cassidy said was their way of saying "thanks" for the cooperation given the Extension Service over the years. The Elba Clipper and The Enterprise Leader were represented and the radio stations of the two cities.

The price of steaks caused the most of us to enjoy them on very rare occasions so you can realize just how much we did enjoy the delicious steaks. I hope they will decide to "appreciate" us real often, I have never enjoyed anything more than I enjoyed that lunch.

NATIONAL PEANUT WEEK

MARCH 8-18, 1967

FARMERS, MERCHANTS and others are promoting the observance of National Peanut Week, proclaimed by Gov. Lurleen Wallace for the period March 8-18. Stated by the Governor are Miss Jennifer McFadden, Enterprise, National Peanut Festival Princess, and E. C. Brooks, Enterprise, vice president of the Alabama Peanut Producers Assn. In her proclamation Mrs. Wallace urged Alabamians to use more peanut products both for their nutritional value and in support of one of Alabama's major farm crops. The APPA carries on a year 'round promotional program, financed by voluntary contributions by the growers.

nation, other cultures and other lands.

In this day when skepticism and materialism are rampant and many young people are rebelling against restraint of any kind, the importance of such organizations as the Girl Scouts takes on a new meaning. The three million Girl Scouts represent a mighty force among American youth—a constructive force that may come up with some meaningful answers to today's problems for all young people.

The Girl Scouts and Girl Scout Week deserve the unequalled endorsement and support of every adult U. S. citizen.

These proposals, along with any others that are received within the next few weeks, will be considered by the Steering Committee. YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of the State of Alabama.

TREATING POISON CASES

When a person has swallowed a poison, it should be removed from the stomach as rapidly as possible. Emptying the stomach by stimulation of vomiting may in many cases be all the treatment necessary. Persons with a sensitive vomiting reflex can usually be made to vomit.

Sometimes, warm soapy water will induce vomiting, while in other cases a strong emetic may be necessary. It is generally agreed that causing vomiting in the case of poisons in the stomach is only a preliminary emergency measure and should be followed by gastric lavage, the washing out of the stomach. This is accomplished by inserting a tube through the mouth or nose. Much of the content of the stomach can be removed by aspiration or suction before liquid is used. Then the liquid is poured down the tube and aspirated, with more liquid used. This is repeated until the return material is clear.

With more and more drugs and chemicals being used about the home, accidental poisoning, especially among children, is tragically increasing. Each year more than 6,000 children between the ages of one and four years die as a result of accidents, and more than 1,500 of these deaths are the result of swallowing poisonous material.

When a person is found to have swallowed a poison, first aid must be given immediately; and this consists in making the patient vomit. When a doctor arrives, he may find that the vomiting has removed most of the poison; but washing out of the stomach is done to remove all trace of the poison.

TRAVELING ALABAMA

George Washington's Indian agent reported to the nation's first President that Kymulga Onyx Cave near Childersburg was a great work of art.

Benjamin Hawkins made the observation after a 1796 visit to what may be America's most historic cavern. Those who make this claim about the Alabama underground attraction build their case this way: Holey Hajo, a famous Creek Indian chief, made the cave his home in 1720; a cave inscription dated 1723 bears the name of I. W. Wright, an Indian trader and two years later Tobias Fitch, head of England's trade with the Indians, recorded his visit to Kymulga.

Confederate soldiers used the massive shelter for military quarters during the 1860's. And Kymulga promoters hold that Desoto rested his Spanish explorers here in 1540.

All of these visitors saw thousands of onyx formations decorating Kymulga's floors, walls and ceilings. Onyx is a variety of quartz showing parallel and regular color bands. The black and white specimens are used for cameos.

Stone pillars and columns, caused by stalagmites stretching up to meet hanging stalactites, abound in this vast cavity surrounded by solid rock.

A stroll through the lighted walkways also reveal the Natural Art Gallery which features formations looking like frozen waterfalls and the snowbanks of Alaska.

Kymulga Cave is located five miles east of Childersburg on State Highway 76. A paved road leads you directly into a colorful onyx cavern flavored with Indian habitation and famous visits by Colonials and Confederates.

Retired Teachers Meet At Elba Country Club

A luncheon meeting was held by the Coffee County Retired Teachers Association Tuesday morning, Feb. 28th, beginning at 11:30 o'clock. The meeting was held in the dining room of the Elba Country Club.

An attractive arrangement of mixed spring flowers decorated the luncheon table.

After the luncheon, the president, Mrs. Mae Bryan, opened the business session by asking the secretary-treasurer to call the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. Eighteen members were present.

The president also called for a financial report.

A number of business items were discussed.

Mrs. Bryan volunteered to represent the group at the annual ARTA meeting to be held in the banquet room of the Thomas Jefferson Hotel Thursday, March 16.

The president announced that the April meeting will be a social meeting, and asked the members to invite a guest, or some of the other retired teachers who are not yet members of the group.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice Sunday

Beside Still Waters

Those stirring words of the Twenty-Third Psalm:
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures... He leadeth me beside the still waters... He restoreth my soul!

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a cornerstone of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the good of the community. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community itself, which needs his moral and material support. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Church provides opportunity for Sunday worship, and guidance in every-day devotion to God.

RHEUMATIC FEVER IS ALWAYS DANGEROUS

It is now believed that rheumatic fever is caused by the same streptococcus germ which causes a strep throat. It can make a child or adult tired and have painful joints or abdominal tenderness.

More serious results occur. The illness inflames the heart's mitral valve. Scar tissue can form and permanent damage may result. Worse yet, a child does not grow out of this again. Physicians know these dangers, but can protect you most if they are consulted about any sore throat as soon as possible.

COFFEE NEWS & CHAT

BY SARAH HUTCHISON

FISH
Frozen fish is one of the ways in which fish reaches the market for the homemaker. She may choose it in several stages of preparation. These are: fresh frozen, ready-to-cook, and ready-to-heat-and-serve. The labels on the packages give the net weight. One point I'd like to emphasize concerning the net weight is this: When buying materials are used, they may account for one fourth to one half the weight. Therefore, a penny conscious shopper would consider doing her own bread.

WEEDS
Weeds do plague homeowners. As the weather warms, weeds will grow rapidly. One weed which is a common broadleaf weed is spinnweed, sometimes called sandspur, which grows close to the ground and has finely dissected, fern-like leaves. The seeds are borne near the ground and are armed with sharp spines.

LANDSCAPE
It was good to talk to a former 4-H Club member of mine recently. She is now Mrs. Ann Burch who lives on the Bellwood Road. Mrs. Burch has requested some suggestions concerning the placement of foundation plants around her new home.

HOUSEHOLD TIP
Last week when I met with the Mr. Gillett Extension Homemakers Club, Mrs. H. C. Collier shared a household tip with the club members. I'd like to pass it along to you. Those of you who use rollers for hairsets can keep them better organized if you'll use the 3 pound shortening can to store them in.

A good control for the weed is silver. Spray lawn with silver before the seed develops. This same chemical will also control other weeds such as henbit, chickweed, clovers, and cranesbill.

One landscape tip I'd like to stress is not to get plants too close together. Know what size plants will be at maturity before you plant.

Physical Training Helps Retarded Child

Through physical education, a mentally retarded child can learn to do something well—maybe even better than other children, according to a top official of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, in Washington, D. C.

Speaking at the recent Conference on Programs of Recreation and Physical Education for the Mentally Retarded at the U. of A., Dr. Julian U. Stein explained that mentally retarded children need to do things, to experiment and try things on their own. "Limitations in teaching the mentally retarded are often only a reflection of our own lack of expectation," he said.

Urge Safety Guards for Tractors

Protective frames to guard tractor operators in roll-over accidents should be standard features on all farm tractors, according to the National Safety Council.

The Council's Farm Conference, which met recently, adopted a resolution that the farm equipment industry make such protective equipment available as standard equipment on all farm tractors.

The Conference pointed out that tractor overturn accidents claim more than 800 lives a year, and operators should exercise reasonable care and adhere to recommended safety practices.

Now is time of medium fertility. Top dress with 60 pounds of nitrogen. On soils of low fertility increase the amounts used. Your best bet though is to have a soil test made before fertilizing.

PECAN SPRAY SCHEDULE We have a mimeograph of medium fertility. Top dress with 60 pounds of nitrogen. On soils of low fertility increase the amounts used. Your best bet though is to have a soil test made before fertilizing.

DAIRY ASSOCIATION Phillip Martin of Route 2, Enterprise, president of the American Dairy Association, has invited us to an invitation to their annual meeting. According to Martin their annual association meeting will be held Thursday, March 9, in Montgomery.

GOOD NEWS You gardeners who have had to do too much work controlling grass and weeds are in for easier times. Dr. Ray Dickens, Auburn University staff specialist in weed control at Auburn, has just completed new booklets called "Chemical Weed Control for Vegetables."

As labor becomes harder to come by and fertilizer bags seem to get heavier, very year more folks are thinking about broadcasting fertilizer. This is what we recommend: For soils testing high in phosphorus and potash, use the regular rate; on soils testing medium, put out the same rate and then apply one-half this rate in the row at planting. Go carefully on broadcasting fertilizer on soils testing low in phosphorus and potash, but if you do broadcast apply one and one-half times the regular rate plus one-half the amount in the drill at planting.

Rabies Alarm Sounded By Diagnostic Lab

Attention is being called to the fact that a great many animals affected with rabies are being reported in this area, according to Dr. V. D. McCreary of the Swine Diagnostic Laboratory. Dr. McCreary stated to a representative of this newspaper Monday that a farmer near Kinston had brought in a female fox he had killed during the night. The head was sent to the State Laboratory and mid-afternoon Monday the report was called to the Laboratory in Elba. The fox did have rabies. Another report has also been reported in Coffee County of a positive rabid fox being killed.

Also reported is that the brain of a cow from a farm near Opp showed positive rabies. One of the veterinarians in Opp is reported exposed to rabies and is forced to take the painful shots.

It is reported that the infection of rabies is running wild in the Opp area and there is a possibility the same is true of Coffee County.

Rabies is an acute virus disease of warm-blooded animals that attacks chiefly the nervous system, is uniformly fatal when untreated, and is transmitted with infected saliva through the bite of a rabid animal. It is commonly known as "a mad animal". An animal with rabies is characterized by spasms of the muscles of the throat and diaphragm, choking, salivation, extreme excitement, and evidence of fear, often manifested by indiscriminate snapping at objects. When not showing strange behavior of any animal it is wise to report it to officers or that the animal be penned for observation.

The method by Pasteur of aborting rabies is stimulating production of antibodies during the incubation period of the disease through successive inoculations with the virus in attenuated form gradually increasing in strength. It is a long and painful inoculation period but of absolute necessity after a person has been infested with the virus.

People with pets should have them inoculated immediately or else take the risk of their becoming ill of rabies and the very possibility of their biting some person as well as other animals.

The fox captured near Kinston Sunday night was disturbing chickens at a farmer's home. When the farmer went to check the commotion, dogs chased the fox away but the strange action of the fox was noticeable even then. The fox returned to the chicken house even though the farmer was there with a light and gun and the dogs continued to bark. That is the fox that was brought to the Diagnostic Laboratory in Elba and sent to the State Laboratory to be checked for rabies.

Any animal acting strange is dangerous and should be treated as such.

Former Resident Named Outstanding Man

Three Troy State graduates have been selected for inclusion in the 1967 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

The three are William R. Fralish and Doyle W. Carpenter, of Ozark, and Frank Sadler, of Troy. Fralish is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Carpenter, of Elba.

Fralish is superintendent of Ozark City Schools. Carpenter is principal of Carroll High School of Ozark. Sadler is head coach at Henderson High School of Troy.

The chairman of the selection board for Outstanding Young Men of America, released the names of the three Troy State graduates. The selection was made by a 14-man national board of editors. Blankenship said the men selected have distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding.

Outstanding Young Men of America is an annual biographical compilation of approximately 10,000 young men of outstanding rank throughout the country.

Past winners of the honor include such famous persons as John F. Kennedy, Nelson Rockefeller, Dr. Tom Dooley, and Henry Ford, II.

The lower photo is girl scouts of the Elba Methodist taken Sunday following services in which they participated in by serving as ushers and giving the Girl Scout oath in unison.

Elba Tigers Attack Spring Training "Head On"

Coach Wendell Hart's fall, Elba Tigers have called a temporary halt to spring training activities for the AEA holidays. Coach Hart reports that he is well pleased with the potential for the coming season and that the boys are showing a great interest in being prepared for football this year, everyone is urged to give blood.

Elba citizens are reminded that the quota for West Coffee County has been being met largely by Dorsey Trailer personnel, and that if an increased interest is not shown citizens whose immediate family is not connected with Dorsey Trailers or have not given to the Blood Bank recently will not qualify under the current group plan.

Currently any West Coffee citizen can receive blood due to a cooperative plan where blood is available to any West Coffee citizen due to the presence of more donated blood than there is a demand for in the area. This quota would not be reached without the Dorsey personnel.

Big Construction Plans At Rucker

A construction program encompassing expenditures of more than $6.5 million is planned for this year at the Army Aviation Center.

Federal Officials Say Sewer Grant Approved

A telephone call to the Washington office of Senator John Sparkman last week by a representative of this newspaper revealed that the efforts of the City Fathers in seeking federal assistance on the proposed sewer project is paying off.

Sparkman assistants checked with FWA officials and confirmed that the $184,800 grant and the $560,000 low interest loan from the federal government had been allocated and funds frozen for Elba. According to Washington officials, all that remains is for some minor paperwork and the federal government had been allocated and funds frozen for Elba. According to Washington officials, all that remains is for some minor paperwork and the federal government had been allocated and funds frozen for Elba.

Sparkman assistant, Ron Locklin, assured this newspaper that the necessary funds were available and would not be used for other projects.

There has been some concern among local citizens and also city officials over the long delay but this has been explained away as "red tape".

There is also a state grant that accompanies the federal money.

U.S. Army Band To Perform In Dothan

Internationally famous U. S. Army Field Band from Washington, D. C., will perform in a free concert at the Dothan Farm Center Saturday, April 1, at 8 P.M.

As official musical representatives of the Department of the Army, the band travels thousands of miles a year. Known as the "Kings of the Highway," the field band is considered by music critics to be one of the most proficient and distinctive musical organizations now appearing before the public.

The military musicians have appeared in all 50 states, Canada, Mexico, the United Kingdom, Europe, and the Far East. Performances in small as well as large communities have brought the band's music to thousands of people in areas not toured by other major bands.

Appearing with the group will be the Soldier's Chorus, an integral part of the band. They will present their own special arrangement of well-known compositions.
